

PUBLIC HUMANITIES GRADUATE CREDIT CERTIFICATE PROGRAM

Learning Outcomes

1. Students will demonstrate an understanding of central theories and methods in the interdisciplinary field of public humanities and within their discipline.
2. Students will develop a publicly engaged humanities project that reaches wide audiences and encourages dialogue and reflection on topics of social importance.
3. Students will learn and apply digital media production skills in documentary film, podcasting, and web publishing in public-facing project development.
4. Students will understand and apply best practices in ethical and collaborative community engagement in relationships with public partners and audiences.