

PENN STATE ABINGTON, THE ABINGTON COLLEGE

About the College

Gary Liguori, Ph.D., Albert and Suzanne Lord Endowed Chancellor and Dean, Penn State Abington

At Penn State Abington, you can complete 26 majors at our campus on the edge of Philadelphia or start the first two years of more than 275 Penn State degrees.

Our campus offers students the Abington Experience — a roadmap to launch from campus to career success. It combines internships, research guided by expert faculty, leadership development, and short-term academic travel to build the in-demand skills and confidence proven to increase job offers, salaries, and lifelong success.

Home to nearly 3,000 students, Abington offers an affordable path to your degree, with pathways to save time and money toward earning a master's degree. Student-athletes can compete in our NCAA Division III athletics program, which fields 14 teams. Through the Abington and Schreyer honors programs and state-of-the-art facilities including the Chaiken Center for Student Success, Penn State Abington delivers— it's where the city's resources meets the best of the suburbs.

Mission and Goals

We provide an affordable, accessible, and high-impact education resulting in the success of a diverse student body. We aspire to be a campus where students, regardless of their starting point, discover pathways to graduation and achievement in a lifelong quest for learning, service, and fulfillment of personal and collective potential.
