Career Paths

The HCM major prepares students for generalist positions as well as specialized careers in Human Resources. Talent Acquisition and Management, Compensation and Benefits, Employee and Labor Relations, and Human Resource Information Systems are just some of the specialized fields. HR Managers, HR Directors, Vice President of HR and Chief Human Resource Officer are just some of the generalist positions. If you chose not to enter HR, which managerial position does not benefit from an in-depth understanding of managing human resources in a company as well as the legal environment of employment? The HCM major prepares you to enter the workforce.
