

APPLIED LINGUISTICS, MINOR

Requirements for a minor may be completed at any campus location offering the specified courses for the minor. Students may not change from a campus that offers their major to a campus that does not offer their major for the purpose of completing a minor.

Program Description

An Applied Linguistics minor prepares undergraduate students to understand the complexity and multiple dimensions of language in human interaction. The minor is a suitable and complementary program for undergraduate students in many major fields, including social sciences, psychology, linguistics, cultural and global studies, education, and international business and science.

You Might Like This Program If...

- You enjoy working with people from other cultures and language backgrounds.
- You want to go abroad, join the Peace Corps, apply for a Fulbright Exchange Program or Critical Languages Scholarship.
- You want to work with adult English language learners in the U.S. or overseas.