

INFORMATION SCIENCES AND TECHNOLOGY FOR LABOR STUDIES AND EMPLOYMENT RELATIONS, MINOR

Requirements for a minor may be completed at any campus location offering the specified courses for the minor. Students may not change from a campus that offers their major to a campus that does not offer their major for the purpose of completing a minor.

Program Description

The joint minor in Information Sciences and Technology for Labor and Employment Relations (ISLER) is designed to provide students with the opportunity to develop working knowledge of information technology, labor and employment relations, and their interdisciplinary synergies.

The joint minor is designed to prepare students for professional careers in human resource management, labor relations, information systems, software development, consulting, and government.
